

Non-Life Insurance Market Reports

A uniquely detailed and comprehensive insight into the global non-life (P&C) insurance industry

Axco's Non-Life Insurance Market Reports combine the expertise of insurance specialists reporting from over 170 territories with that of a team of London-based statisticians and research analysts to produce a set of online reports.

The reports are set out market by market and provide an easy to navigate, comprehensive understanding of individual insurance markets around the world.

In each territory, experienced Axco consultants visit local supervisors, insurance associations, insurers, reinsurers and brokers to gather vital information and provide in-depth analysis of the local market. Axco monitors market developments and also provides regular updates on changes in legislation and regulation, including detail on compulsory insurances, non-admitted positions, and taxes and charges. In parallel, a team of statisticians supplements the written detail of the Insurance Market Reports with the most up-to-date figures from supervisory bodies and insurance associations across the globe.

Key Benefits

- Quickly understand the trends in 170+ insurance markets worldwide
- Understand the regulatory framework of each territory
- Easily identify emerging markets and commercial opportunities
- Create customised reports to facilitate client presentations and business tendering

Axco's policy of sending dedicated consultants to each individual market delivers a level of industry insight that is unobtainable through desktop research and has established Axco's reputation as the definitive source for insurance industry information.

Time-saving efficiencies

The depth and breadth of Axco's Insurance Market Reports provide you with a single, reliable and authoritative source of market intelligence to make more informed and timely business decisions. Reports are clearly and consistently formatted to ensure that you can find information, make comparisons and spot trends across multiple markets or sectors.

Axco's Non-Life Reports access the most relevant, current and accurate market data available. The reports are verified by dedicated checkers and supplemented with data from our in-house Statistics Department.

In addition to individual Market Reports, Axco also produces special non-life reports on the following:

- Bermuda (International)
- CIMA Legislation (francophone Africa)
- European Union (EU) Legislation
- International Agreements
- The London Market

Crucial compliance information

Axco's Insurance Market Reports help identify the compliance needs of the market[s] in which you operate by providing essential, regularly updated compliance and tax information. The current practice in each market is clearly set out as well as fines and penalties which might apply for contraventions of local legislation.

For those considering a move to a new market, Axco's information on company registration and operating requirements, including types of licence, capital requirements, limits on foreign ownership and solvency margins, gives a crucial insight into local practice and conditions to help with decision making.
